In addition, to gain a holistic view of employee engagement across the business, global organisations are using Workday Peakon Employee Voice to give employees a confidential platform to share honest feedback about their experience, expectations, and health and well-being. Organisations can then use these insights to take meaningful, tangible actions that help to enhance the employee experience.

- Support Various Types of Workers with Unified Workforce Management Solutions. The shift in workforce composition is driving many organisations to develop a holistic workforce strategy that supports various worker types. Following the acquisition of VNDLY, Workday will provide organisations with a comprehensive solution that helps manage salaried, hourly, contingent, and outsourced workers.
